‡ The Russell 1000 Growth Index measures the performance of those Russell 1000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. An investor cannot invest directly in an index, and their results are not indicative of the performance for any specific investment, including an AB fund. Indices do not include sales charges or operating expenses associated with an investment in a mutual fund, which would reduce total returns.

² Currency-hedged share classes use hedging techniques in an attempt to reduce—but not eliminate—fluctuations between the investor's holdings in a particular currency-hedged share class denominated in the investor's investing currency and the portfolio's base currency. The goal is to deliver returns that track the portfolio's base currency returns more closely. Stand-alone currency symbols represent convenience pricing, which offers the ability to purchase or redeem shares using the currency indicated, which is then converted into the base currency of the portfolio using a market rate at the time of purchase or redemption. Convenience pricing involves no currency hedging and does not seek to provide any protection from currency fluctuations.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Total returns, provided by AB, include the change in Net Asset Value and reinvestment of any distributions paid on Portfolio shares for the period shown, but do not reflect sales charges. Fund returns are annualized for periods longer than one year. Performance quoted in currencies other than the base currency of the Portfolio is calculated by converting the daily Net Asset Value of the Portfolio using a spot foreign exchange rate of the other offered currency on each valuation point. The information on this page is for informational purposes only and should not be construed as an offer to sell, or solicitation of an offer to buy, or a recommendation for the securities of the Portfolio. Returns denominated in a currency other than that of the fund may increase or decrease as a result of foreign exchange currency fluctuations.

Reflects a 1.74% and 8.93% increase in NAV on January 18, 2011 and December 23, 2008, respectively, from the proceeds of the Enron class action settlement.

Investment in the Fund entails certain risks. Investment returns and principal value of the Fund will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. The Fund is meant as a vehicle for diversification and does not represent a complete investment program. Some of the principal risks of investing in the Fund include country risk, currency hedged share class risk, illiquid assets risk, focused portfolio risk, portfolio turnover risk, management risk, derivatives risk, borrowing risk, taxation risk and equity securities risk. These and other risks are described in the Fund's prospectus. Prospective investors should read the prospectus carefully and discuss risk and the fund's fees and charges with their financial adviser to determine if the investment is appropriate for them.
